Randy Larson Joins PSI as President

OAKBROOK TERRACE, ILL – PSI is pleased to announce that Randy Larson, PE, CCM, FASCE, FCMMA has joined PSI as President and a member of PSI's Executive Management Team. Mr. Larson will concentrate his efforts on enhancing PSI's growth with short term focus on immediate client relationships and actions to impact 2012. He will be splitting time between PSI's Corporate office in Oakbrook Terrace, Illinois and PSI's Tampa, Florida office.

Mr. Larson has more than 35 years of engineering and construction industry experience, most recently as President of Infrastructure, Water and Environment at Atkins, and as a member of the Board of Directors of PBS&J and Chairman at PBS&J Constructors. PBS&J was acquired by Atkins in August 2010.

He was Chairman of the Construction Management Association of America (CMAA) in 2007 and previously served as Secretary/Treasurer for that organization's Board of Directors. He is currently on the Board of Directors for the CMAA Foundation. In 2008, the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) presented Mr. Larson with the National Construction Management Award for outstanding leadership and innovative management of construction projects. In 2009, he was elected as an ASCE Fellow and into CMAA's College of Fellows.

He is an active member of his community, having completed three terms as a City Commissioner for Plant City, Florida, in 2003 and having served as that city's mayor from 1996 to 1999. He is a licensed professional engineer in five states and Puerto Rico, a registered general contractor in Florida, and a Certified Construction Manager.

PSI is a leading independent engineering and testing firm (ENR #65), with ~$200 million in annual revenues. PSI provides a wide range of environmental, engineering and testing services, including environmental consulting, geotechnical engineering, construction materials testing and engineering, industrial hygiene services, facilities and roof consulting, and specialty engineering and testing services. PSI, headquartered in Oakbrook Terrace, Ill., a Chicago suburb, operates from ~100 offices in North America, with 2000 employees.
